Does FirstSearch remove duplicate records from cross-database search results?

Last updated: Mon, 09 Jul 2018 13:33:17 GMT

Applies to
- FirstSearch

Answer
No. FirstSearch lets users choose which record best meets their needs when two or three databases each contain a record for the same item. Each database may provide different information about the item, such as an abstract or additional subject headings.