Every time I open a request in Borrowing, I am getting a script error message that keeps on coming up

Last updated: Tue, 23 Jul 2019 21:35:45 GMT

Symptom

- You are getting a script error message every time you open up a Borrowing request. In this example, the message is "object doesn't support property or method 'forEach.'"

Applies to

- ILLiad

Resolution

The message is coming from a script that is running. Here are some steps to figure out which Addon is causing the issue:

1. You might disable all the addons and then add one at a time and open up a request.
2. When you get the error message, you will know which addon is causing the error. An example might be Google Scholar addon.

Once you have the correct one, here are some ideas of how to fix it:

1. Make sure you are using the latest version of that addon.
2. If you see an error message, then you should look for the settings and possibly try to find the error. In this case, you have 'forEach' as the message. Look in your settings where you might have two words together, "forEach."
3. You might have to go back to the author and ask about the error message.

Page ID

22119